

Texas A&M University Comparative Ophthalmology Residency: The Texas A&M University Department of Small Animal Clinical Sciences is now accepting applications for a 3-year comparative ophthalmology residency training program. This residency will be approved by the American Board of Veterinary Ophthalmology (ABVO).

Inclusive dates of the program: July 16, 2018 – July 19, 2021

Salary: $29,583.60

Application requirements: Please follow the website below for applicant/employee prerequisites

- Letter of intent – statement of the candidate’s interests and goals in ophthalmology
- Resume/Curriculum Vitae – including cumulative veterinary school GPA, class rank, phone and e-mail contact information.
- Copy of transcripts – including both preclinical and clinical veterinary curricula
- Three letters of recommendation – additional letters will not be accepted. Note: Letters should be sent to Ms. Janice Coutts (Jcouts@cvm.tamu.edu) by the person authoring the letter via e-mail with the subject line reading: “Residency Recommendation. Applicant’s Last Name. Applicant’s First Name”

All materials should be sent electronically to: Ms. Janice Coutts (Jcouts@cvm.tamu.edu). Note: The subject line of the e-mail should read: “Ophthalmology Residency Application. Applicant’s Last Name. Applicant’s First Name”

Deadline for receipt of complete application: 8pm EST, Friday, November 3, 2017. Following review of all applications, selected applicants may be invited for an in-person or skype interview.

Residency offer date: 12pm EST, Tuesday, January 16, 2018*. Note: Please be available by phone at this time.

Deadlines and offering dates will be in accordance with the Ophthalmology Residency Choosing Association Guidelines (ORCA) – ACVO guidelines.* <http://www.acvo.org/new/residents/resources/ORCARules.shtml>

Program description: For a full program description, applicant prerequisites and Texas A&M University employment information, please visit: <http://vetmed.tamu.edu/VSCS/internships-residencies>. Note: For graduates of non-AVMA-accredited colleges of veterinary medicine, the applicant will need to obtain the PAVE or the ECFVG certificate, however please note that the Department of Small Animal Clinical Sciences is not able to sponsor applicants for H-1B or E-3 non-immigrant employee categories. For questions regarding applicant prerequisites, please contact Ms. Janice Coutts (Jcouts@cvm.tamu.edu)

If you have any questions about this training program, please contact Lucien Vallone DVM DACVO (LVallone@cvm.tamu.edu)